Life-long learning in the digital age

Rapid eLearning development at your fingertips

The half-life of a learned skill is just 5 years, and this is placing huge demands on learning in the digital age. Fortunately, the explosion of high-quality content and digital delivery models can offer employees easy access to continuous learning.

The ability to create compelling eLearning experiences is set to escalate. While 90% of CEOs believe their company is facing disruption, 70% say their organisation does not have the skills to adapt¹.

ELMO Course Builder simplifies the task of creating effective online learning. With no coding experience required, subject matter experts can create tailored, branded content to quickly fill the knowledge gaps in your organisation.

No Coding Required

Simple editing tools with a range of page templates for rapid development.

Simple Publishing

Integrated with ELMO Learning Management to quickly publish and roll out courses.

Assessments

Create assessments with a range of question types to effectively assess learners.

Key Benefits

ELMO Course Builder simplifies the creation of bespoke online learning content, which can be branded with your organisation's colours, logos and images. With no coding skills required and a range of page templates, you can create interactive online courses with one quick training session.

ELMO Course Builder is deeply integrated into ELMO Learning Management to provide an easier publishing process. The review process for course content is also simple: reviewers are sent a link to submit feedback for each slide of a course with tracking that can be used by a course author.

Course Builder provides you with the ability to create a range of different types of assessment questions to challenge and engage the learner. Each question is tracked within ELMO Learning Management to allow further fine-tuning of courses and assessments to maximise effectiveness.
