Access a world of learning opportunities

Keep employee skills relevant and compliant

How critical is continuous upskilling? Gartner research shows that only 9% of chief human resource officers agree that their organisation is prepared for the future of work.[1]

Fortunately, employees and employers are more willing than ever before to work together to ensure upskilling occurs, with 74% of employees believing it's their own responsibility to take an interest in upskilling[2].

How can employers help? By providing easy access to learning in all its forms. ELMO Course Library offers pre-built generic courses which cover a range of topics including compliance, soft skills and productivity training. With ELMO's regular updates to course content, it helps ensure that the skills of your employees remain sharp, now and into the future.

Key Benefits

ELMO's Course Library offers over 30 courses covering a range of topics to assist your employees in their learning and development. With a growing library, new and updated courses are regularly released so there is always new content to discover. The course content is also kept up to date with legislative changes to ensure continued compliance.

Courses are built by ELMO's team of instructional designers using industry best-practice approaches to eLearning, ensuring engaging course design and content. While most off-the-shelf training has limited scope for customisation, courses from the ELMO Course Library allow you to customise courses to fit your organisation's needs, including the ability to change content, images and branding.
